FOREWORD

This report presents the U.S. geographical distribution of prime contract awards over $10,000 for fiscal years 1978, 1979, and 1980 by census region and state.

The data are presented in two sections:

1. Section A provides information for all types of procurement: research, development, test, and evaluation (RDT&E) work; other services and construction; and supplies and equipment. Individual tables are provided for each state which break down the awards into 25 major procurement programs.
2. Section B provides information confined to awards for RDT&E work. In this section, the RDT&E total for each state is subdivided to show awards to educational institutions, other nonprofit institutions, and business firms.

It is emphasized that prime contract data are not a measure of the total volume of defense work that is performed within a state, because they do not reflect the very substantial amount of subcontract funds that may flow into and out of the state. About half of the prime contract dollars for major hard goods, and unknown proportions of other types of procurement, are subcontracted by the prime contractor.

In general, the state data are based on the location of the plant where the product will be finally processed or assembled. For contracts where companies assign the work to more than one plant, the location is the address of the plant where the greater part of the work is done or where the management responsibility is centered. When this cannot be determined, the contracts are assigned to a "not-distributed-by-state" category and are excluded from this report. The amounts not distributed by state also include all contracts and purchases of $10,000 or less; other contracts which, for security reasons, could not be assigned to a state; and foreign military sales contracts entered into overseas and other contracts for work outside the U.S.

Some special characteristics of the data on prime contract awards by procurement program category should be noted.

The "Electronics" category includes all electronics and communications equipment which is separately procured under prime contract. In the case of missiles and aircraft, electronics work is often an integral part of the assembly prime contract and, therefore, is not separately identified as electronics in the prime contract statistics.

Weapons, whether for use in ships, tanks, or aircraft, are separately procured and separately reported.

Contracts for all other types of equipment and parts and for repair, maintenance, overhaul, modification, and other services, which can be identified with one of the specified program categories, are assigned to that category. For example, the installation or check-out of equipment at ballistic missile sites is recorded as missile work in the state where the site is located. (The contract for manufacture of such equipment is reported according to the location of the manufacturer's plant.) Aircraft, missile, or other program contracts, therefore, may be reported in states where there are no weapon assembly plants but where bases, laboratories, or suppliers of instruments, parts, or support equipment may be located.

The dollar volume shown for each category includes RDT&E work associated with it. The scope of RDT&E includes research, exploratory development, advanced development, engineering development, operational systems development, and management and support. The effort performed under each of the activities is described in the Defense Acquisition Regulations 4-101.

Figures in the tables may not add due to rounding.

NOTE: Fiscal year 1980 data include contract awards for Civil Functions (flood control, rivers, and harbors work) for the first time, while data for prior years are limited to military prime contract awards.

HIGHLIGHTS

Total prime contract awards in fiscal year 1980 amounted to $83,686 million, an increase of $14,338 million, or 20.7 percent, over fiscal year 1979.⁽¹⁾

Awards over $10,000 for performance within the United States whose distribution by census region and state is shown in this report totaled $68,070 million in fiscal year 1980. As presented in the following tabulation, these awards were $11,417 million or 20.2 percent more than in fiscal year 1979. This amount represented 82 percent of total prime contract awards and has remained constant for the past three fiscal years. The kinds of the awards not included in this report are described in the Foreword to the report and are distributed as follows:

Prime Contract Awards Over $10,000 by Region and State (Table I and Chart I)

The three regions that received the largest share of the awards in fiscal year 1980 were the Pacific (25.0%), the South Atlantic (14.9%), and Middle Atlantic (13.8%). Those regions that comprise the eastern part of the United States (see map) received a total of 53.9 percent of the awards as opposed to 46.1 percent for the western regions.

The three regions whose awards in fiscal year 1980 showed the largest increases over fiscal year 1979 were the Pacific (up $3,117 million, or 22%); the South Atlantic (up $1,893 million, or 23%); and West South Central (up $1,849 million, or 38%). No region showed a decrease in awards between fiscal years 1979 and 1980. The remaining regions all experienced increases in awards in FY 1980 ranging from 9 percent to 28 percent. Of the states, awards for Arkansas, Delaware, Louisiana, and West Virginia more than doubled with Louisiana recovering from a -46 percent in FY 1979. On the other hand, five states experienced a decrease, including Montana and Wyoming who realized a 98 percent increase in FY 1979. The following indicates those states with the largest percentage change in awards from 1979 to 1980:

STATE	PERCENT CHANGE	DOLLAR CHANGE ($000)

Prime Contract Awards Over $10,000 by Major Hard Goods Program by Region (Table II and Chart 2)

Table II and Chart 2 show the U.S. geographical distribution of awards for the seven major military hard goods programs for the fiscal years 1978, 1979, and 1980. The following table indicates that the hard goods programs accounted for over 70 percent of the total awards during these fiscal years. These awards showed a 3 percent decrease between 1979 and 1980 as compared to 20 percent increase for all programs. The percentage distribution among the total awards and among the hard goods programs remained fairly constant during the three-year period, except for a two percent decrease in ships.

Chart 2 shows the top three regions for fiscal year 1980 in each of the seven hard goods programs and their share of awards in these programs in 1979, indicating some movement in the distribution of awards between the two years.

The Pacific Region was again the overall leader for the second consecutive year placing in the top three for six of the seven programs.

In general, there was not much change in the distribution of regions within the seven hard goods programs. The only change was a shift in ranking for several programs. The Middle Atlantic replaced the Pacific as the leader in weapons, while the East North Central took over as leader in the ammunition program, moving the West North Central into second place.

Table IIIA

This table shows for fiscal year 1980 the five leading states in each of the 25 major procurement programs. While California was first in eight of the programs, there was a broad representation of states in the five leading rankings. A total of 29 states appear in the table, down four from 1979; 13 states ranked first in one or more of the programs, 14 ranked second, 18 ranked third, 14 ranked fourth, and 15 ranked fifth.

Research, Development, Test, and Evaluation Work by Region and State (Tables IVA, IVB, and IVC)

These tables show for fiscal years 1978, 1979, and 1980, respectively, the U.S. geographical distribution of prime contract awards over $10,000 for RDT&E work. As may be noted from the following tabulation, these awards totaled $9,354 million in fiscal year 1980, an increase of $900 million or 10.6 percent from fiscal year 1979. The ratio of RDT&E to total awards was 14 percent in 1980, as compared to 15 percent in 1979, and 16 percent in 1978.

As shown on the following table, the percentage distribution of the RDT&E awards among the three types of contractors did not change in FY 1980 from the FY 1979 percentage.

The following table presents the dollar and percentage distributions of total and RDT&E awards, and the percentage of RDT&E awards to total awards for fiscal year 1980. The distribution of RDT&E awards remained fairly constant when compared to fiscal year 1979 except for the Mountain and South Atlantic regions which had increases of 1.6 and 1.2 percentage points and the Pacific and West South Central regions which showed decreases of 1.9 and .9 percentage points. However, the relationship of RDT&E awards to total awards from fiscal year 1979 to fiscal year 1980 showed a pronounced decrease with seven of the nine regions showing a loss led by the Pacific with a drop of 3.3 percentage points. The only regions showing a gain were the Mountain and West North Central with increases of 8.1 and .4 percentage points.

VIII

Eight of the nine regions received more RDT&E awards in fiscal year 1980 than in fiscal year 1979. The three regions that had the largest increases were the Mountain ($184 million, or 60 percent), South Atlantic ($224 million, or 20 percent), and East South Central ($37 million, or 19 percent).

The five leading states that received the largest share of the RDT&E awards in fiscal year 1980 were California (31%), Massachusetts (10%), Missouri (6%), Washington (6%), and Florida (6%). With respect to the three types of contractors: Maryland ranked first in awards to educational institutions (29%), while California ranked first both in awards to other nonprofit institutions (41%) and to business firms (32%).
